

Contents

Acknowledgements	ix
List of abbreviations	xi
Introduction	1
1 Feminist epistemologies	7
The emergence of 'feminist epistemology'	7
The theoretical field of feminist epistemology	8
The formation of the field of feminist epistemology	17
2 Lacanian epistemologies	25
Should feminists know better than to read Lacan?	25
Lacanian epistemology	28
The foundations of Lacanian epistemology	30
The later Lacanian epistemology: the four discourses	46
3 Knowing subjects	59
The discourse of sex	60
The Knowing Master	65
Knowing Otherwise	76
Knowing women: what can The Woman know?	83
Feminist identifications	94
4 Feminist discourses	105
Discursive stakes	105
Discourses of knowledge	111
Social fictions	115
Feminist discourses	127
Communities of knowers: feminist epistemic communities	137

viii Contents

5 Feminism's time

149

Lacanian modernity 150

Modern women 165

Third-wave feminist epistemologies 171

Notes

183

Bibliography

187

Index

203